Dear DATACAD Customer:

Let me introduce myself to you as the new President and CEO of Cadkey, Inc. A copy of our press release is enclosed to give you additional information.

I have been active in Computer-Aided Design since 1969 and have been a customer and CAD manager, as well as a vendor. The technology has changed a lot since I first worked with computers, but the importance of the customer has not.

I will be spending the first part of my time with Cadkey listening closely to customers, our Value-Added Resellers, and our developer partners. I am confident that we will be able not only to continue, but also to accelerate, the growth of the company. We have excellent technology and an outstanding, dedicated professional team.

With the Cadkey team, I am committed to providing you with the highest quality products, service, and support. I invite you to write to me with any advice or suggestions you may have concerning ways in which we may improve.

Thank you for purchasing DATACAD; we value your business.

Sincerely,

Cadkey, Inc.
